

Tonight! If you didn't make it last week, join us for our re-launch of children's programs, youth and adult programs. Our goals are to equip and grow the faith of all people, not just the children and leaders in the programs, but parents and adults too. So, every week the whole church body will split up into age-appropriate classes and end by coming together for a moment of worship and dinner. This time will include new and existing adult small groups, large format lectures and studies, and service opportunities in which the whole church can participate, depending on the season. Registration is now open online on Church Center and our Website.

We are working on setting up a service opportunity, more information to follow.

Prescription Pick Ups: Waiting in line at the Smith's pharmacy either in White Rock or in Los Alamos is especially hard on our friends who have problems standing for long periods of time. You can help! If you plan to go the pharmacy to fill a prescription or have one to pick up, call Julie in the church office (505-662-6277), she will write your name and number down and if someone needs to have a prescription picked up she'll give them that person your name so they can contact you and arrange to pick it up your prescription.

Food Depot Truck: The Santa Fe Food Depot truck will be in Los Alamos this Friday, September 23, at Immaculate Heart of Mary Catholic church, 3700 Canyon Drive, from 10:30 a.m. – Noon. If you know someone who needs help with food please let them know. Volunteers are always welcome, you can sign up to volunteer on their website thefooddepot.org click on volunteer.

Thank you from JJAB: Thank you for your generous donations of so many backpacks for our school supply drive. With inflation, our donations didn't go as far as previous years, but with this contribution we were able to close that gap and get 59 students supplies for this coming year!

Thank you from Paper for Water: Thank you so much for all of your generous donations! We are incredibly grateful! We all had so much fun folding and talking with everyone. We can't wait to come back again next year!
